Eurybase, the database on education systems in Europe

Eurybase has been designed and is managed by the Eurydice Unit within the EU Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency.

The description of education systems is updated annually by the National Units in the Network

The Eurydice network

The Eurydice network is an institutional network of 35 national units, established in all 31 countries taking part in the action programme in the field of lifelong learning, and a European unit based in the EU Education, Audiovisual and Culture Executive Agency in Brussels which coordinates the network. Created by the European Community in 1980, the network supports European cooperation in the field of education by providing reliable and readily comparable information on education systems and policies in the countries concerned and by producing comparative studies on issues common to European education systems.

The Eurydice network serves mainly those involved in educational policy-making at national, regional and local levels, as well as in the European Union institutions. It focuses primarily on the way education in Europe is structured and organised at all levels. Its publications output may be broadly divided into descriptions of national education systems, comparative studies devoted to specific topics, and indicators and statistics. They are available free of charge on the Eurydice website or in print upon request.
